To whom it may concern;

Szar Communications came into our company and analyzed and reviewed all our telecom services in late 2002. Szar Communications reviewed Local Services, Long Distance, Toll Free , Internet Services, and Cell Phone usage. They recommended some changes and assure us, in other areas, we were getting the best services for our needs. The overall reduction of telecom cost from 2002 to 2003 was 20%, even though we added some better services to assist our efficiencies to grow our business.

Szar Communications organized our inventory of services, kept all of our contracts in order, and outlined the pertinent information to us in simple Service portfolio.

In November of 2004 Advantage Label & Packaging had out grown our existing facility, so we build our new facility in Kentwood, Michigan. Szar Communications project managed our move for us by meeting with our current phone vendor, ordering and make sure our local provider implemented our new services, and worked with our ISP to deliver new Internet Services in our new location. They made the move a lot easier on us. They created a project plan and timeframes to meet our move in date. We moved in over a weekend and on Monday morning we were doing business as usual.

In early 2005, Szar Communications helped us upgrade our phone and voicemail systems because of our company's growth and needs. Again Szar Communications project managed the changes with the phone vendor and never interrupting our daily business.

Szar Communications has been a valued resource to our executives and staff. This is a resource we feel has the expertise to guide us to make good sound business decisions. We feel we have an additional employee on staff that only comes around a few times a year. The relationship with Szar Communications allows us to focus on our core business.

I would recommend this consultative approach from Szar Communications to anyone in business.

Sincerely,

Brad Knoth
